evolute:overview

'mobile devices are a new sense, revealing activities to us, and guiding us to them. patterns of inhabitation are not limited by ground level visibility. adjacency relations proliferate upwards. '

Phones profile our interests and desires by knowing our movements, communications, research and purchases.

GPS, and place recognition gives access to stored proximal spatial information.

We are alerted, as we are now by our eyes and ears, when items and activities of interest enter our spatial field.

Interfacing with transport_services* we are taken to our interests. activity_ecology grow around successful destinations.
